

Technology is NOT value neutral ...

Does technology itself have values, or is it value neutral?

I think technology itself is value neutral. We humans are the ones that give it a value. Depends on how we use it is the value is going to have.

Discuss with your neighbor; come up with examples

For example snapchat, is good to communicate but some people use it for pornography so it gets a bad value